

KENTUCKY AGC Self Insurers' Fund

Risk Management Support from the Kentucky AGC Self Insurers' Fund

Over the last several months, we've been on a journey to evolve some aspects of the member experience at the Fund, and our Risk Control services will be re-vamped beginning in 2023 to offer you a more holistic and hands-on approach to loss prevention. We made the decision to hire two full-time Risk Control Consultants to support members with risk management, training, and safety practices in a fully dedicated capacity.

We will use best in class technology, industry-leading resources, and will tailor the support to the operations and needs of your individual business. Where applicable, our risk control team will work alongside your in-house risk management professionals, as well as the safety and education directors within our association partnerships.

Mark Bates has 30 years of insurance loss control experience with an emphasis on construction and has been servicing Kentucky for more than 20 years, most recently with Amerisure. Craig Gipe had his own safety and training consulting business for the last 25 years, focused on construction. Both Mark and Craig have deep experience in partnering with contractors of all types and sizes and they are excited to put their expertise to work for you and your clients to reduce losses and improve safety. I wanted to provide their contact information, please feel free to reach out anytime.

We'd like to thank JV Resources, and the team of experts that provided risk control services to our members over the years. We recognize that it was a great partnership for many years and we're grateful for their support and expertise. While we are excited about what we'll be able to offer on risk control moving forward, we recognize that transitions can cause confusion. As a reminder, JV will continue to manage our risk control visits through 12/31/22.

If you have any questions at all, I sincerely hope you'll reach out to Craig or Mark. And I remain available as well, should you'd like any additional information.

I look forward to sharing more in the months ahead.

Regards,

Stephen Lewis
